WHAT THIS REPORT IS

This report organizes the case facts selected by the attorney into a consistent rule-based framework. It is designed to support attorney-client discussion and case review. It is not derived from a proprietary jury-verdict or settlement database, and it is not a prediction of settlement, verdict, or net recovery.

SCENARIO USED

This client-facing scenario keeps the current-file diagnoses, completed treatment, and non-dollar uncertainty facts selected by the attorney while excluding the listed forward-looking dollar components. No percentage discount or hidden multiplier is applied.

Not included in this scenario:

- Recommended or scheduled future treatment and associated future-care amounts
- Permanency and quantified future earning-capacity amounts

The report distinguishes diagnosis, treatment, economic loss, symptoms, function, causation and recovery-source information. No diagnosis, surgery, commercial-vehicle fact or DWI fact creates an automatic multiplier.

Economic & Functional Impact

Reported past medical amount	$65,000
Medical amount basis	Amount paid or still owed for the care
Reported past lost income	$8,200
Future medical in this scenario	Not included in this scenario
Future earning loss in this scenario	Not included in this scenario
Reported work / activity effect	Significant work/activity effect
Future care status	Scheduled RFA reported — excluded from this scenario
Permanency status	Provider permanency opinion reported — excluded from this scenario

ECONOMIC APPROACH

Past medical expenses and lost income are presented as reported economic facts. Exact supported amounts supersede broad ranges. Future medical or future earning amounts are included only when the factual support selected by the attorney satisfies the model's requirements; unsupported future amounts are not invented.

FUNCTIONAL IMPACT

Current symptoms: Significant ongoing symptoms. Work/activity effect: Significant work/activity effect. Permanency status: Provider permanency opinion reported — excluded from this scenario. These facts are considered together to reduce double counting rather than being presented as separate client-facing dollar components.

RECOVERY-SOURCE CONTEXT

Commercial-truck involvement was reported. TSC does not treat a single consumer-reported policy amount as the total available recovery until carrier, ownership, insurance, and other potential recovery sources are reviewed.

METHODOLOGY DISCLOSURE

TSC Attorney Case Review is a rule-based claim-analysis framework. It is not a jury-verdict database, settlement database, appraisal service, or substitute for the attorney's professional judgment. The report uses only the facts entered or selected by the participating attorney. Unknown information adds no automatic dollars. Insurance or other recovery sources are analyzed separately from the gross injury-damages assessment.

IMPORTANT CLIENT NOTICE

This report is an attorney case-review aid and discussion document. It does not guarantee any settlement or verdict and does not state the amount a client will receive. Liability, causation, admissible evidence, insurance, collectability, liens, medical balances, attorney fees, litigation expense, legal rulings, and later-developed facts can materially affect the outcome.
